OUT OF TOUCH?...

The high powered mobile radio fixed into the vehicle remains the single most powerful communication device available to dispatchers and their fleets. However, when a driver exits their vehicle to carry out a service job, make a delivery or simply refuel, the mobile radio's benefits are lost: the driver becomes out of touch, their safety diminishes and they are unable to call for assistance. This generates inevitable job inefficiencies, reduces safety and greatly reduces an employer's ability to ensure a duty of care to their field employees. The power of the mobile radio to provide safety and accountability has long remained restricted to inside the cabin of a vehicle... until now!

SECURE WIRELESS COMMUNICATION
via your vehicle's mobile radio

creating a safer place to work

Built for Commercial Users

The high quality, durability and reliability of the X10DR has found its acceptance amongst government agencies and law enforcement officers working in critical scenarios. The commercial user can feel assured that you are getting the same industrial class dependability and performance, no matter the size or type of your operation.

Control Room

The busy dispatcher can stay in constant contact whilst away from the radio control station by wearing an X10DR Secure Wireless Microphone around the office or facility. X10DR gives workers the freedom to leave the desk and never miss a call. In addition, up to three X10DR units can be connected to the one local control station allowing the entire office and the fleet to communicate wirelessly. The X10DR allows true multitasking ability by liberating the radio user from being wired to the desk or the vehicle just to communicate.

Duress Alarm

The advanced model X10DR Secure Wireless Microphone naturally provides a duress button that can be used to activate the emergency mode within the host mobile radio. Should a lone worker become injured or need emergency assistance, they can now instantly sound the alarm and instantly communicate with their control room dispatcher even while hundreds of meters from their vehicle. X10DR provides worker safety, increases productivity and yet reduces business costs. X10DR is a win-win solution

Headset Operation

An optional 6 pin Hirose audio connector on its base as standard that allows use of industry standard covert surveillance accessories. Additionally, a mono 3.5mm headphone jack is provided for quite secured communications when silence is golden.

Long Battery Life

The X10DR's 1200mA internal battery means you will typically achieve well in excess of 24 hours operation between re-charges. Docking the microphone into its cradle allows 100% re-charge from completely flat in less than 4 hours.
